Have you heard about the Twitter account @dog_rates, also known as WeRateDogs ?? Probably Yes, but if not then here I can tell you a bit about it and better than that I will see you some fun analysis of WeRateDogs tweet data.

Firstly, WeRateDogs is a Twitter account that rates people's dogs with a humorous comment about the dog. These ratings almost always have a denominator of 10. But numerators?? Most of them are greater than 10. But WHY??? WeRateDogs believes every dog is beautiful and almost all dogs deserve 10 and sometimes more than that.

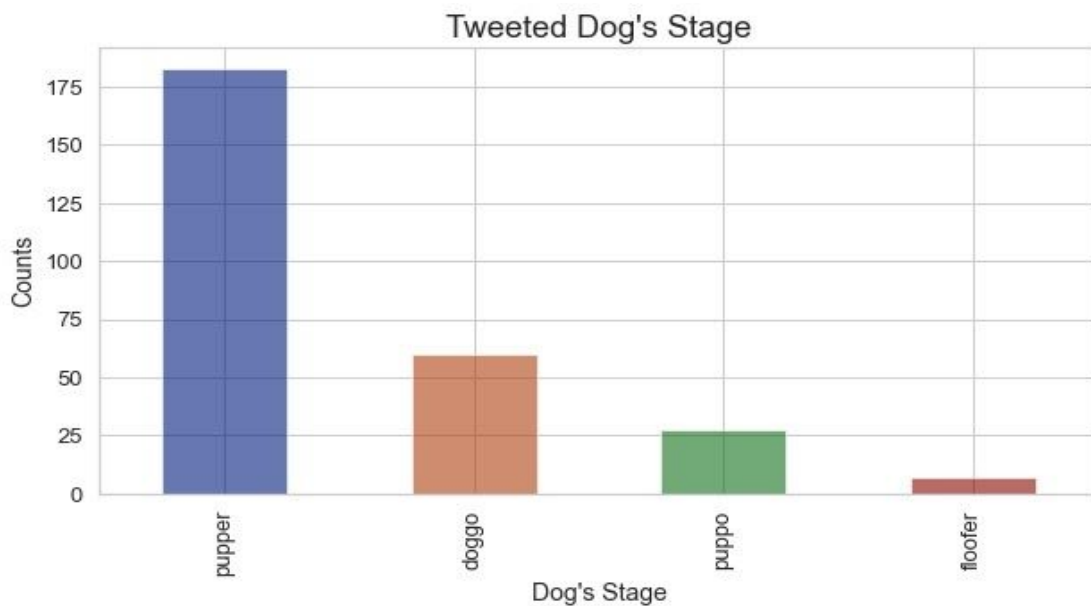

WeRateDogs has over 8 million followers and has received international media coverage. One of those coverage was about the quote "they're good dogs Brent", this was an exchange in which WeRateDogs shut down a person having an issue with its rating system in humorous ways.

So, what does this rating do? Which dog breed is most popular? What is the most common dog's name? Which dog breed is most common in tweet dataset? These questions and many more are answered in the following insights. WeRateDogs has over 5000+ tweets but I was able to analyze around 1600+ tweets.
